Living as a disciple of Jesus

May you respond to the Lord Jesus' call and follow Him in loving service of others. What motivates your actions? Do you seek to get ahead in your job or in your status in the world? Do you seek more than a fair share of comfort and pleasure? I am not against spending time in relaxation and recreation (re-creation). Scripture speaks of the need of a day of rest each week. Yet there are some people who are only out for themselves. They are self-centered and selfish. They only are helpful to others if it will somehow benefit themselves in the long run. The Whole Gospel of Jesus Christ, our Master-Teacher, calls us to be other-centered. We must seek the GOoD of other people, even when it means that we have to give up something we treasure. We must constantly look to the example of our Master-Teacher and seek the guidance of the Holy Spirit as we live out our lives as disciples of the Lord Jesus.

Gospel Reflections: Jesus sent out the seventy-two missionaries ahead of him to prepare the ground for his impending ministry. He gave them definite instructions. He endowed them with the special powers that only he could give. Their message would be, "The kingdom of God has come near to you." They need to learn to face challenging situations as they were sent like "lambs among wolves". There would be persecution and rejection. They have to come out victorious from those dangers, trusting in the power of the one who sent them, not their power or the security of material possessions. The first missionaries were more than successful in their mission. Look how Jesus himself rejoices and thanks God for the great things his disciples were able to achieve in his name! What was the secret of their success? When we trust in Jesus' name, proclaim his message and perform deeds of mercy, miracles will take place as it happened in the case of the seventy-two disciples, as they exclaimed, "Lord, even the demons are subject to us in your name!"

Idaho Church and Ministries

Hispanic Ministry: The Office of Hispanic Ministry strives to guide the Catholic community in a joyful celebration of our cultural diversity by creating an awareness and respect for all. In particular, the Office supports the development of the many thriving and fully participating Catholic Hispanic communities within our Diocese.

Campus Ministries: The Diocese of Boise operates Catholic student centers at Boise State University, Idaho State University, and the University of Idaho. The main mission of the centers is to train future leadership while keeping a Catholic presence near our Idaho universities.

Prison Ministry: Jesus asked us to visit the imprisoned. The Diocese reaches out to our brothers and sisters who are imprisoned to nourish their faith and assist them in their rehabilitative process. Currently, more than 100 volunteers work within the prison system to offer Mass, hear confessions, share the scriptures and pray the rosary and visit inmates in federal and state prisons and county jails. Sacramental preparation and religious materials are also offered. This ministry is credited with reducing the recidivism rate of prisoners who attend religious services.

Respect Life: The Catholic Church proclaims that human life is sacred from conception to natural death and that the dignity of the human person is the foundation of a moral vision for society. This belief is the foundation of all the principles of our Catholic social teaching. We believe that every person is precious, that people are more important than things, and that the measure of every institution is whether it threatens or enhances the life and dignity of the human person. To respect life means to honor life as sacred from the moment of conception until natural death - whether a human person's body consists of only two cells, whether it is sick and suffering in old age, or if - To be continued.
